PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

This house is a nice colonial vernacular building sitting perpendicular to Township Line Road. The core was constructed c. 1772 and is a two and a half story, three bay, gable-end house with two end chimneys. The house is clad in stucco. A full-length one story porch adorns the obscured façade of the house. On the north side of the house is a one story addition on the same axis as the core. There is also a rear one story shed addition.

Classification: The highly altered nature of this house warrants a Class II resource classification.
