PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

This house across from the Cedarbrook Country Club is an example of Victorian complexity. It is a mix of an octagonal tower, a front end gambrel roof, and differing porches. Windows come in different shapes and sizes, but none of them have shutters. There is one exterior chimney. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. There is a large front porch over the main entrance with a balcony over top.

Classification: This house is in good condition, yet the alterations make it a Class II resource.
