PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

This building is a three part additive, Folk Victorian style building. The core, which fronts DeKalb Pike, consists of a 2.5 story, 5 bay building with a cross-gabled, end gabled, scalloped asphalt shingle roof. The thick eaves are clad in aluminum. The core and additions is clad in machined shingles. Two gabled dormers on the front facade flank the large gable in the center of the roof. Windows are new, 1x1. A full length, shed roof porch is attached to the main facade. Two brick chimneys are visible at each end of the building.

A cross-gabled, two story addition is attached to the rear of the core, creating its ell-shape. A two-story bay window faces north. Attached to the addition is a one story, shed extension, clad in T-111.

Classification: The building's alterations render it Class II.
